MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 50

Published

This mark scheme contains the instructions and marking guidance that our examiners used to mark candidate responses for this component.

Before they start marking, examiners complete a standardisation process. They review a range of candidate responses and discuss the mark scheme in detail to agree which answers can and cannot be accepted. Examiners award marks where it is clear that candidate responses have met the requirements of the mark scheme. These requirements may vary between different components or different versions of the same component, depending on the exact requirements of the question and the candidate responses seen during the standardisation process.

Sometimes, our mark schemes may allow marks to be awarded to responses which contain elements that are factually incorrect or for content not covered by the syllabus. We do this in response to the demands of a specific question to support candidates and make sure that our assessments are fair. However, these allowances should not be used as a guide for teaching and learning.

We cannot discuss the mark scheme with schools, and we recommend that schools read the mark scheme together with the assessment material and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

This document consists of 26 printed pages.

General marking principles

All examiners must apply these marking principles when marking candidate responses.

1	Examiners must award marks for each response in line with: • the specific content defined in the mark scheme • the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the level descriptions • the standard of response required as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.
2	Examiners must award whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).
3	Examiners must award marks positively. This means that: • marks are not deducted for errors or omissions • marks are awarded for correct/valid answers as defined in the mark scheme and also for other valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme referring to your team leader as appropriate • the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar are judged only when the mark scheme indicates that these features are specifically assessed in the question. However, the meaning of all responses must be unambiguous.
4	Examiners must consistently apply the requirements of the mark scheme and any rules for what to do when candidates have not followed instructions correctly.
5	Examiners must use the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme, unless limited by the quality of the candidate responses seen.
6	Examiners must award marks according to the mark scheme and must not award marks with grade thresholds or grade descriptions in mind.

English & Media-Specific Marking Principles
(To be read in conjunction with the General Marking Principles (and requiring further guidance on how to place marks within levels))

Components using level descriptions:

- We use level descriptions as a guide to broad understanding of the qualities normally expected of, or typical of, work in a level.
- Level descriptions are a means of general guidance and should not be interpreted as hurdle statements.
- Where indicative content notes are supplied for a question, these are not a prescription of required content and must not be treated as such. Alternative correct points and unexpected answers in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the knowledge and skills demonstrated.
- While we may have legitimate expectations as to the ground most answers may occupy, we must at all times be prepared to meet candidates on their chosen ground, provided it is relevant ground (e.g. clearly related to and derived from a relevant passage/text and meeting the mark scheme requirements for the question).

Components using point-based marking:

Point marking is often used to reward knowledge, understanding and application of skills. We give credit where the candidate's answer shows relevant knowledge, understanding and application of skills in answering the question. We do not give credit where the answer shows confusion.

From this it follows that we:

a DO credit answers which are worded differently from the mark scheme if they clearly convey the same meaning (unless the mark scheme requires a specific term).
b DO credit alternative answers/examples which are not written in the mark scheme if they are correct.
c DO credit answers where candidates give more than one correct answer in one prompt/numbered/scaffolded space where extended writing is required rather than list-type answers. For example, questions that require n reasons (e.g. State two reasons…).
d DO NOT credit answers simply for using a 'key term' unless that is all that is required. (Check for evidence it is understood and not used wrongly.)
e DO NOT credit answers which are obviously self-contradicting or trying to cover all possibilities. f DO NOT give further credit for what is effectively repetition of a correct point already credited unless the language itself is being tested. This applies equally to 'mirror statements' (i.e. polluted/not polluted).
g DO NOT require spellings to be correct, unless this is part of the test. However, spellings of syllabus terms must allow for clear and unambiguous separation from other syllabus terms with which they may be confused (e.g. corrasion/corrosion).

Annotations guidance for centres

Examiners use a system of annotations as a shorthand for communicating their marking decisions to one another. Examiners are trained during the standardisation process on how and when to use annotations. The purpose of annotations is to inform the standardisation and monitoring processes and guide the supervising examiners when they are checking the work of examiners within their team. The meaning of annotations and how they are used is specific to each component and is understood by all examiners who mark the component.

We publish annotations in our mark schemes to help centres understand the annotations they may see on copies of scripts. Note that there may not be a direct correlation between the number of annotations on a script and the mark awarded. Similarly, the use of an annotation may not be an indication of the quality of the response.

The annotations listed below were available to examiners marking this component in this series.

<table>
<tr><th>Question</th><th>Answer</th><th>Marks</th><th>Guidance</th></tr>
<tr><td>2(e)</td><td>
Identify one example from the text below of how the writer uses language effectively to describe the events at the kite fighting tournament:

‘Sensing the end was near, the crowd were cheering, clapping, chanting. Then the moment came. The crowd erupted when the blue kite spun wildly like a tyre come loose from a speeding car, tumbling and plummeting down. My own kite sailed triumphantly in the empty sky.’ (lines 50–53)

Explain the impression the writer creates in the example you have identified.

Candidates must select from the following relevant examples in part, whole or combined:
<table>
<tr><th>Example ✓ 1 mark</th><th>Explanation ✓ up to 2 marks</th></tr>
<tr><td>1 ‘the crowd cheering, clapping, chanting’</td><td>• a lot of people
• loud / noisy
• excitement / celebration / happiness
• encouraging / supportive
• non-stop / continuous
• everyone caught up in the moment
• different sounds</td></tr>
<tr><td>2 ‘Then the moment came.’</td><td>• suspense / excitement / tension / build up
• change of event / something significant is happening / a turning point</td></tr>
</table>
</td><td>3</td><td>
Example: Do NOT accept line references (only).

Example: NOT ‘Sensing the end was near’ since this is not effective use of language.

Example: If ellipses are included, only accept the words which are given. If sense is lost, or there is no effective use of language included, do not award the mark e.g. ‘My own kite… sky’ = 0
e.g. ‘My own kite sailed… sky’ = 1

Example: If the example is embedded in the explanation rather than in the designated ‘example’ space, award a mark if it is creditworthy. Do NOT award if it is a second attempt at an example.

Example: ACCEPT a single word if rich enough to create an effect, e.g. ‘erupted’, ‘plummeting’, ‘spun’
but not words which only carry a literal meaning,
e.g. ‘moment’, ‘blue’, ‘sky’
</td></tr>

How to mark Question 3(a) Summary: 20 marks (10 + 10)

Annotations for Question 3(a)

●	Reading: In left-hand margin for each content point
Highlight	Writing: Stretches of copied text (in red)
+	Writing: In body of the summary to indicate creditworthy original structures and vocabulary

Award a maximum of 10 for Reading
Award a maximum of 10 for Writing

For this question, it is important that you are very familiar with the wording of the original text and refer regularly to the passage to help you identify copied text.

Please annotate for Reading and Writing on the same 'page': the Reading page. Leave the Writing page blank.
You must enter the marks for Reading and Writing separately.
Check that the marks for Reading and Writing are entered correctly in the mark entry panel.

No comment is required. There may be comments on the Practice scripts in speech bubbles and/or the Comments box to explain the thinking behind the awarding of marks, but examiners are not to write any comments, including levels, in the Comments box or a speech bubble.

Reading

1 Place a dot ● in the left-hand margin for each relevant content point made, either in own words or in the words of the passage.
2 (Copying from the passage is accounted for in the Writing mark.)
3 The point has to be fully made, e.g. Point 7: more free time is incomplete without reference to hobbies / interests etc.
4 Focus on the words in bold in the Summary Appendix. Candidates do not have to use these words, but this is the idea we are looking for.
5 Identify each correct content point number in the Comments box (not speech bubble) at the bottom of the screen for all Standardisation scripts 1–10.
6 Continue to do this in live marking until you are confident that you are accurately identifying the correct content points. Your TL may recommend that you continue this practice throughout live marking, or you may choose to do so
7 Do not credit / dot a point twice. You can use REP in the left margin if a point is repeated but this is optional.
8 If a summary has no dots, it might deserve a Reading mark if the candidate has referred to some of the ideas but not made the points fully: Level 1 – 'some ideas referred to'.

Writing

1 Highlight stretches of copied text (red), not short phrases or individual words
- do NOT take errors (e.g. incorrect verb ending, misspelling, missing article) as reworking or own words;
- do NOT highlight any reshaping of the text vocabulary, e.g. away from constantly comparing (text: 'away from constant comparisons');
- do NOT 'blanket highlight' a large section unless it is copied verbatim. Candidates are not to be credited for content which is not their own, but it is also important that any reworking is not buried under highlighting.

2 Place a plus + in the body of the summary to indicate creditworthy original accurate structures
- look for structures such as relative pronouns (e.g. where / who / which) and conjunctions (e.g. as / if / although / since / not only… but also) used correctly;
- do NOT plus simple conjunctions (e.g. and, so);
- only plus participles (e.g. discovering, enjoying) if they contribute to fluency and not just because they are there;
- clarity and fluency are likely to be affected by errors in grammar and expression.

3 Place a plus + in the body of the summary to indicate appropriate own word vocabulary
- we are assessing a range of vocabulary so credit high-level vocabulary, good substitutions, interesting word choice or turn of phrase, e.g. leisure time (text: 'free time') / effectively (text: 'productively and efficiently') / perpetual (text: 'constant');
- vocabulary is to be appropriate to the task; do not credit ornate or obscure vocabulary.

4 Read through the summary again and consider organisation
- do NOT annotate for organisation;
- consider the way the summary is shaped and how ideas connect to flow from one point to the next;
- ideas might be linked by cohesive devices such as connectives Moreover, However, also etc.
- BUT a summary can be fluent and organised without obvious linking connectives;
- do NOT credit inappropriate phrases such as in a nutshell, on the flip side, moving on.

5 Use the annotation to help you reach a Writing mark:
- a script at Levels 4 or 5 should have little or no highlighting and several pluses + for both vocabulary and structure;
- a script with a lot of highlighting and/or very few or no pluses + is more likely to be placed at lower levels.

Summary length
- a summary should not exceed 150 words but it is not expected that examiners count the number of words. There is no automatic deduction for responses going over 150 words;
- since very short responses are unlikely to demonstrate sufficient evidence of organisation and original own words and structures, a Writing mark in the lower levels would be appropriate.

Additional Guidance on Writing

- if the response is in bullets or a list, but the points are in sentences, mark as normal for Writing;
- if the response is not written in sentences (in note form / abbreviated etc throughout), award 0 for Writing and mark as normal for Reading;
- consult your TL if the summary seems to be copied verbatim;
  the summary seems to be irrelevant (e.g. own material or wrong text).

REMEMBER

- a summary with a low Reading mark can achieve a high mark in Writing and vice versa. We are assessing different skills.

Marking criteria for Question 3(a)

Table R, Reading

Use the following table to give a mark out of 10 for reading.

Level	Marks	Description
5	9–10	• A wide range of relevant ideas (R1) • Ideas are skilfully selected and used (R5)
4	7–8	• A good range of relevant ideas (R1) • Ideas are carefully selected and used (R5)
3	5–6	• A range of relevant ideas (R1) • Relevant ideas selected; may include excess material (R5)
2	3–4	• Some relevant ideas used; may include indiscriminate selection (R1 and R5)
1	1–2	• Some ideas referred to; limited evidence of selection (R1and R5)
0	0	• No creditable content

Additional Guidance:

- When deciding on a Reading mark, take the number of content points as the appropriate mark.
- If a summary has no dots, it might deserve a Reading mark if the candidate has referred to some of the ideas but not made the points fully: Level 1 – 'some ideas referred to'.

Table W, Writing

Use the following table to give a mark out of 10 for writing.

Level	Marks	Description
5	9–10	A relevant response that is expressed clearly, fluently and mostly with concision • The response is well organised (W2) • The response is the candidate's own words and/or structures where appropriate with a range of vocabulary which clarifies meaning (W3)
4	7–8	A relevant response that is expressed clearly with some areas of concision • The response is organised (W2) • The response is the candidate's own words and/or structures where appropriate (W3)
3	5–6	A relevant response that is generally expressed clearly • There is some evidence of organisation (W2) • The response is mainly the candidate's own words and/or structures where appropriate (W3)
2	3–4	A relevant response that can generally be followed • There are areas of the response expressed in the candidate's own words and/or structures (W2 and W3)
1	1–2	The response lacks clarity • There may be long explanations or the response may be brief (W2) • There is occasional use of own words and/or structures (W3)
0	0	• No creditable content

Additional Guidance:

- Take 'relevant' to mean that the summary is based on the content of Text B, i.e. smartphones.
- Candidates have already been assessed for 'relevance' in their Reading mark (selecting the ideas which answer the question) so we do not double-penalise them by assessing this again in Writing.
- This means a summary with irrelevance (e.g. the benefits of a smartphone) can still be placed at a high level for Writing.

Question 3(b)

This question tests the following reading assessment objective (5 marks)

R2 demonstrate understanding of implicit meanings and attitudes

How to mark Question 3(b), the short response task

1. Award a tick ✓ where a relevant perspective has been supported by an idea or detail mentioned in the text (in bold below and left-hand column).
2. Place DEV where an idea / detail has been developed with inference and/or expansion (see right-hand column).
3. Look for consistency of perspective and relevance of ideas.

Candidates should use some of the following text details which support Jo's perspective as guidance / prompts:

- I could, of course, have set myself time limits or deleted apps on my smartphone, as my friend Jo suggests, but knew that I lacked her self-discipline. She thinks my reaction unnecessarily drastic.
- Admittedly, many of my friends like Jo require the immediate connectivity of a smartphone for work…
- OK – so not all screentime is purposeless, as Jo points out. Going into the bank to make a transaction is time consuming, and without GPS it's a nuisance to scribble down directions or memorise a route. And Jo is usually patient when I ask her to book cinema tickets on her smartphone. True, there has been a social cost since I have to rely on friends to make that extra effort to contact me as I'm no longer part of their group chat. But when I meet Jo in a café, she respects my decision, keeps her phone out of sight
- While it was nice to see a friend's exotic holiday destination or Jo's half marathon victory celebrated on screen…

<table>
<tr><th>Question</th><th>Answer</th><th>Marks</th><th>Guidance</th></tr>
<tr><td>3(b)</td><td>

Imagine you are Jo, the writer's friend.

You are discussing smartphones with the writer.
Give your answer to the writer's question, using information from the text.

The writer's question: You should give up your smartphone like me. What is your opinion and why?

Relevant perspective: Jo thinks her smartphone is useful / Jo thinks not having a smartphone would make life difficult

Jo's answer: I have no intention of giving up my smartphone…

Responses might use any of the following ideas/details:

<tr><th>Supporting details from the text ✓</th><th>Developments DEV</th></tr>
<tr><td>1 unnecessary / can set time limits / can delete apps</td><td>– lots of strategies to ensure the phone does not dominate my life / giving up the smartphone is too extreme / there are alternative options</td></tr>
<tr><td>2 self-discipline, will-power (the writer lacks) / can keep my phone out of sight</td><td>– can manage a healthy relationship with my phone / easy to avoid distractions</td></tr>
<tr><td>3 immediate connectivity / required for work</td><td>– a need, essential, not a choice / quality and effectiveness of work would be severely impacted (without a smartphone) / can work, prepare, research anywhere / contact clients, my boss</td></tr>
</table>

</td><td>5</td><td>

✓	An idea or a detail from the text supporting a valid perspective
DEV	Expansion of a detail, or an idea not explicit in the text but a valid inference

NOTE*: A response can focus on the benefits of a smartphone or the problems caused by not having one*

TEXT DETAILS (left-hand column) can be given without developments

DEVELOPMENTS (right-hand column) can link to any supporting detail or be given without text detail

For DEVELOPMENT, look for expansion of a detail, or an idea not explicit in the text but a valid inference

DEVELOPMENTS are examples. Candidates may offer other creditworthy suggestions

LEVEL 3 must have text detail (tick) + development (DEV)
