At the moment, half of it is unpaved dirt track, making travel difficult and slow. During the wet season it becomes a sea of red mud; trucks can be stuck for days, weeks, or even months after bridges are washed away. Under pressure from the strong farming business lobby, the government is considering paving the rest of the road with a hard surface. The paved section north of Cuiaba passes through already important areas of soyabean and beef cattle production, both major exports of Brazil.

Although the government owns the 100 km wide stretch on each side of the road, trees on the unpaved section have already been cleared as far as the eye can see. Cattle graze among the tree stumps. The only lorries on the road are carrying timber, either tree trunks or sawn planks. Illegal logging is what dominates here, not the rule of law.

Everyone has their own view on paving the BR163.

Trees, not gold, provide the wealth in the Amazon.

Logging company manager

We all dream of the day it will be completely paved.

Truck driver

There is a land rush here, just with the prospect of the road being paved.

Land agent

All our problems for exporting will vanish. The world price of soyabean doubled between 2006 and 2008.

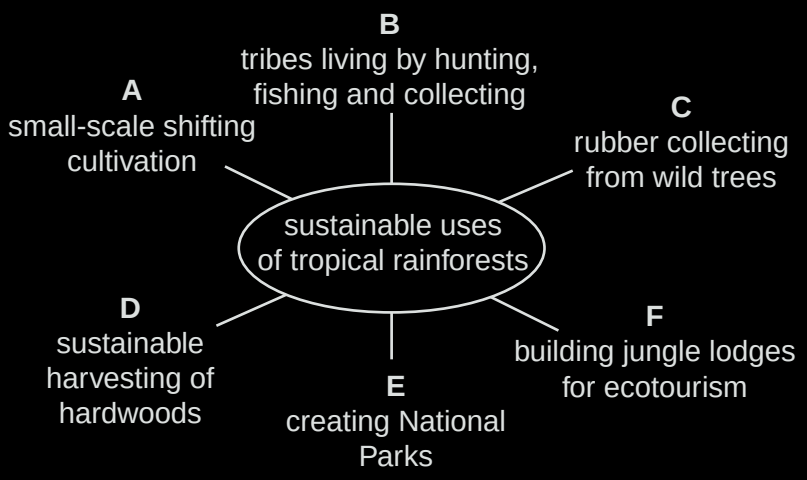

Soyabean farmer

We are worried. If this goes ahead, half the rainforest will be gone by 2030.
